

“PEACE AND SECURITY: THE ROLE OF INTERNATIONAL WATER LAW”

Wednesday, 26 October 2016

17:30-19:00

WORLD METEOROLOGICAL ORGANISATION (WMO)

7bis Avenue de la Paix, 1211 Geneva

2nd floor, Room De Mello

A valid identity document is required to enter the WMO building

Agenda

Welcome address and introduction, François Münger, Geneva Water Hub Manager and Swiss Special Envoy for Water.

The role of the Implementation Committee of the UNECE Water Convention in supporting the effectiveness of international water law, Attila Massimiliano Tanzi, Professor, Faculty of Law, University of Bologna and Chairman of the Implementation Committee of the UNECE. Convention on the Protection and Use of Transboundary Watercourses and International Lakes.

Promoting the principles of international water law in the absence of convention ratification - a global perspective, Benjamin Pohl, Senior Project Manager, adelphi.

When not all riparian States are legally bound to cooperate: the case of Central Asia, Dinara Zingashina, Deputy Director of the Scientific Information Center of Interstate Commission for Water Coordination in Central Asia (SIC ICWC) and Member of the Implementation Committee, UNECE Convention on Protection and Use of Transboundary Watercourses and International Lakes (TBC).

Guiding principles of sustainable hydropower: the case of the Danube Basin, Otto Pirker, PhD, University Lecturer, Senior Adviser, VERBUND AG.

Conclusions of the experts' roundtable, Owen McIntyre, Professor, Faculty of Law, University College of Cork.

Questions and answers.

With the support of

UNIVERSITÉ DE GENÈVE

Schweizerische Eidgenossenschaft
Confédération suisse
Confederazione Svizzera
Confederaziun svizra

Federal Department of Foreign Affairs (FDFA)
Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC)
Corporate Domain Global Cooperation
Global Programme Water Initiatives